Reed plates always come in pairs.

Though a particular key can of course be ascribed to the pair as a whole, to avoid confusion the individual plates should not be differentiated by key (e.g. C/C#), but by their position of installation: upper or lower.

For Diatonic reedplates only:

The upper plate is the blow plate, the lower one is the draw plate, while Chromatic plates have a blow (inside) and draw (outside) section on every plate.

Identify the installation position of the reed

There are two possibilities here:

- The reed is mounted on the outside (draw reeds)
- The reed is mounted on the inside (blow reeds)

Reeds mounted outside are accessible without removing the reed plates, whereas the reeds mounted inside facing the comb can only be reached after the reed plates have been removed.

Exactly this arrangement as shown in Illus: RO-04 can be found in our cutaway diagrams as used in the ordering section of the CSHOP.

The one below is from a HOHNER Chromonica 48 in C.

Please note:

Any hole numbers stamped on the cover are irrelevant here.

The first (lowest) channel is ALWAYS counted as number 1.

Step 1

Ordering individual spare reeds

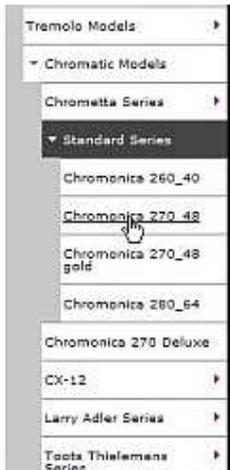

Lets assume that you want to order single spare reeds for your HOHNER Chromonica 48 in the key of C.

You have identified your reed layout version as "NEW", because there was a data stamp and an X-mark on your plate.

Go to the »HOHNER-CSHOP and choose the Category "Harmonica"

Then click on Sub-Category "Chromatic models".....

...Standard Series

then Chromonica 270_48.....

...and you reach the spare part section of the Hohner Chromonica 48.

Go to the article "Reed Set" and look for more detailed information by clicking on the capital or the 'more info'-link.

Step 2 Choosing the key and layout version

At the bottom of the window that opens next, you can first choose your desired tuning.

In your case this was the key of C and 'new'. In order to reach the single reed ordering diagram, click the 'more info' section as marked with the red arrow.
